Our sweet, creamy organic coconut center is covered in rich organic dark chocolate. At OCHO, we make our own small-batch coconut filling with fresh organic coconut flakes, cane sugar, and vanilla extract for a true (vegan!) delight. Chocolate history starts out in Latin America, where cacao trees grow wild. The first people to use chocolate were probably the Olmec of what is today southeast Mexico. Alter Eco. Based in France, this fair trade company offers chocolates made by a Swiss chocolatier in varieties including Dark Salted Brown Butter, Dark Super Blackout, Dark Quinoa, and Dark Coconut Toffee. Both cacao percentage and origin are informative, but can be a bit misleading when understanding what a chocolate tastes like. Cacao percentage is the total percentage (by weight) of cocoa beans (or ingredients derived from cocoa beans) in a chocolate., My Chocolate Bar And Other Food Well Made Fair Trade.
